Conor has gained over 8 years of recruitment experience working within the Software Development space. Primarily focusing on Java and KDB technologies within the financial sector and working both contract and permanent markets.

Conor takes pride in doing his upmost to ensure that the entire hiring process is as efficient as possible for both his clients and candidates. He manages a number of McGregor Boyall's key clients and always ensures that the level of service is the highest, which has resulted in being awarded as the number one supplier on many occasions.

What we do in Software Development

The Software Development team has a magnitude of experience with specialist consultants that focus in each of the core object orientated programming languages, resulting in the team knowing both the client and candidate market extremely well. There is no one specific sector the team focuses on, there are consultants that work in the financial space and others that are more aligned to non-financial services such as retail, digital, and broadcasting.

Client testimonial...

Global Asset Manager, Asset Management

Conor is great to deal with, knows his market, and has great candidate management. He really seems to understand our firm well and always recognises a good fit for the business area that he supports.
