Recent testimonials...

Product Owner, FinTech

Marc is an absolute professional who takes care in selecting the right candidate and role that meets both the client and businesses requirements. He has a vast network of employers that follow him from company to company, this demonstrates his ability to only provide the best candidates. I highly recommend Marc from a candidate and employer perspective.

Agile Project Manager, Financial Services

Marc is without doubt the most exceptional recruitment consultant I have ever encountered. He has a deep and broad knowledge and understanding of the industry, clients and role requirements and how they tally with the skillsets and attributes of candidates. He leverages this knowledge to ensure that all parties are well informed and prepared when things move forward - ensuring that everyone is happy and that no time is wasted on either side. He is dedicated, insightful, engaged, highly responsive, reliable and refreshingly trustworthy. I simply can't recommend Marc highly enough.

Customer Success Manager, Advertising Sector

After moving to London I was looking at understanding the job market and how I should go about finding a new role. Marc was one of the few people who truly helped me out. Not only did he connect me to the right opportunities but also helped me out in preparing well for the interviews. He is one of the few recruiters who truly understands his client's expectations and knows how to read between the lines of a given requirement. He is one of the few in the talent acquisition market who understands how to empathise with the candidates while not losing his grip over client expectations.

Database / Site Reliability Engineer, Financial Services

I had never met a true rock star in recruitment until I met Marc. He is professionalism personified with impeccable knowledge of the IT industry. Highly recommending him to anyone would be an understatement.

DevOps Engineer, Gaming

Marc is that recruiter you'll be wanting to celebrate your new job with over a pint at the pub. That's assuming his work schedule allows it. To say he is absurdly efficient would be an understatement. Marc took me from 'Hi!' to 'Here's your new job offer!' within one week. He certainly knows the industry, and I found him to be refreshingly straight-talking. Connect with Marc, he does not disappoint!

Chief Technology Officer, Consulting

I have worked on many occasions with Marc during my recruitment exercises and I have always valued his expertise and his ability to source the right candidates.

Head of Wholesale Banking Operations, Financial Services (Europe)

As a hiring manager, I have worked with Marc over a number of years. Marc has always ensured he understands the role and the skills required for a position and puts forward the most appropriate candidates for the available role. I would happily recommend Marc as someone to assist with sourcing the right candidates for any role.

Senior Technical Business Analyst, FinTech

Marc is a very genuine and professional recruiter. My recruitment experience with him and his company was great and smooth. He definitely has the right skill-set and talent to perform in his profession in the best way possible.
